Don't worry that your children never listen to you; worry that they are always watching you!
...Robert Fulghum

Dear Parents,

We are well into Lent, and still we find ourselves trying to keep our lenten promises. It's not so easy to make the sacrifices necessary to help us better the way we live. But it's our constant effort to "be perfect as the Father is perfect" that makes our efforts beautiful in the eyes of our Father.

Well, we're not perfect here, either. We have had some serious problems with students who are making some really bad choices. So, in an effort to get them back on the right path, we have initiated more effective supervision schedules. We are also in the process of developing a Code of Conduct that each and every one of us will commit to following in our daily interactions with one another. I will email it to you this weekend, and I would ask that you go over it with your children, so that both you and they know the expectation. I ask you to reread the quotation at the top of this newsletter, and reflect on the importance of being a role model, in every way, to your child. In the meantime, we are also going to begin recognizing the students who are Caught Being Good. We have decided that punishing bad behavior is not working so, we will begin rewarding good behavior. Each month, we will have a drawing for prizes. Please encourage your child to get Caught Being Good!

We are still in the process of determining our enrollment for the next year. Most of you have taken the Leap of Faith with us, but, we still need you to send or bring in the Letter of Intent. We ask you to, please, return it by Friday, Mar. 9th. I am confident that after reflection, you will make the right decision for you and your family. God bless you as you discern.

Speaking of March 9th, we will be sending home Second Trimester Report Cards and having an Awards Assembly at 11:15 to which you are all invited. Again, it is our way to recognize those students who are distinguishing themselves academically, socially, and through service.

In the meanwhile, I pray you continue to have a transformative Lent. As always, you know where to find me. Until next time, be happy, be prayerful, and be well!
God bless you!
